Please note:

all questions about regional distribution:

I can only give very imprecise estimates, otherwise it will be extremely complex and needs a very great and disproportionate effort. So the answer to these questions are very valued and without guarantee: The majority is sold in Switzerland, the rest of Europe is not significant. The next largest sales markets are the USA, China and the Middle East. I hope this information helps you and is it enough.

And furthermore I did not differentiate between food service / gastronomy and retail.

I have always answered all questions summarized for all of our palm-containing products.
