2. Palm Oil and Certified Sustainable Palm Oil Consumption

Information in Section 2.0 - Palm Oil and Certified Sustainable Palm Oil Consumption - is a mandatory declaration in your ACOP. This includes volume data on palm oil, palm kernel oil and related products consumed, to enable the RSPO to accurately calculate uptake of individual members, sectors and RSPO members as a whole. ACOP reports without reported volume data will be considered as incomplete and will not be accepted. Incomplete ACOP reports may lead to suspension or termination of RSPO membership.

2.1 Please list down all operations and subsidiaries using palm oil, palm kernel oil and related products that are owned and/or managed by the member, including those under Group Membership

Jerónimo Martins considers all Perishables and Private Brand products in its retail Companies: Jerónimo Martins Colombia S.A.S. (Ara food retail banner), Jeronimo Martins Polska S.A. In 2022, as in 2021, 100% of the palm oil present in the Private Brand products and perishables sold by our Companies in Poland and Portugal was RSPO certified, the vast majority being certified according to the "Mass Balance" and "Segregated" models.

In Colombia, the Group's strategy has followed a different approach compared to our operations in Europe due to our commitment to combine the use of sustainable palm oil with the goals of promoting local development and reducing carbon emissions associated with transport. Therefore, we prioritize the integration of locally produced palm oil in our products. In 2022, 99% of the palm oil used in our operations in Colombia was of national origin and less than 1% came from other East Asian and South American countries. Of these, less than 5% held an RSPO certificate. This is due to the fact that sustainably certified (e.g., RSPO or ISCC) palm oil production in Colombia is still low (less than 30%) in comparison to total production. To overcome this, Ara, the Group's local banner, joined in 2021 the Colombian Government's initiative "Acuerdo de Voluntades para la Deforestación Cero en la Cadena de Aceite de Palma en Colombia" (Voluntary Agreement for Zero Deforestation in the Colombian Palm Oil Chain), a multi-stakeholder initiative supported by RSPO and other civil society organizations, with the aim of contributing to fight deforestation associated with the production of this commodity in the country, which represents less than 0.5% of the global deforested area. In line with this commitment, the Group's focus in Colombia will be to ensure operations' compliance with this agreement's goals and guidelines, which also includes promoting RSPO certification.

Jerónimo Martins will continue its efforts to fight deforestation associated with the production of palm oil in the country by working with Colombian producers and suppliers to increase this ingredient traceability and ensure that it is deforestation free. By 2022, we were able to trace the origin of 90% of the palm oil present in Ara's Private Brand and perishable products back to the farm where it was produced, in line with our commitment. This mapping allowed us to understand that the palm oil present in our products comes from three of the four production areas in the country and from 14 (out of 68) processing plants operating in Colombia. Of the 0.1% of deforestation associated with palm oil detected by public agencies in 2018, less than 10% occurred in these three production areas.

5. Actions for Next Reporting Period

5.1 Please outline activities that your company will take in the coming year to promote the production or consumption of certified sustainable palm oil (CSPO)

- Participation in RSPO Working Group or Task Forces
- Support Independent Smallholders (ISH)
- Contribute to the RSPO Smallholder Trainer Academy
- Financial contribution to the RSPO Smallholder Support Fund
- Direct investments in Smallholder Certification projects
- Involvement/direct investments in Jurisdictional/Landscape approach
- Direct/collective investments in conservation and restoration initiatives
- Financial contribution to support members with Remediation and Compensation (RaCP) process, direct/collective investments in conservation and restoration initiatives
- Allocating FTE to promote the production or consumption of certified sustainable oil palm products
- Specific policies and action plans by the member to promote CSPO production or consumption in the upstream or downstream supply chain, including target dates or broader policies that include such efforts
- No activities planned
- Others

Other

In the next year, Jerónimo Martins will continue to encourage its food retail banners' perishable and Private Brand suppliers to implement the best sustainable palm oil production practices through the RSPO certification system.

This continuous work has already led us to achieve an important milestone in 2019, when the Group accomplished the goal of using certified RSPO palm oil (100% of the ingredient) that is incorporated into our private brand and perishable products marketed in Poland and Portugal. In order to highlight the importance of consuming certified sustainable palm oil, the Group has been promoting the RSPO Trademark in Pingo Doce and Recheio banners' Private Brands product packaging in order to raise consumers' awareness. In 2022, we offered 18 SKUS in these local banners, an increase of 6% compared to 2021.

Jerónimo Martins also aims to create a bigger and more accelerated impact on the promotion of sustainable palm oil (e.g., RSPO) within the Group's participation in multistakeholder initiatives. In Poland, through our banner Biedronka, we were one of the founding members of the Polish Coalition for Sustainable Palm Oil (PKZOP), which aims to achieve 100% certified palm oil (e.g., RSPO) by 2023. In Colombia, through our banner Ara, we are part of an initiative promoted by the Colombian government to fight deforestation in the country's palm oil chain with the support of producers, industry, retailers and civil society organizations. Therefore, our focus in the upcoming years will be to ensure the compliance with the goals and guidelines defined in the "Acuerdo de Voluntades para la Deforestación Cero en la Cadena de Palma en Colombia" (Voluntary agreement for Zero Deforestation Palm Oil in Supply Chains in Colombia), of which RSPO is also a member.

As a member of The Consumer Goods Forum' Forest Positive Coalition of Action, the journey of Jerónimo Martins on becoming Forest Positive will continue through the commitment of fighting deforestation, protecting High Conservation Value areas and High Carbon Stock forests. The Group is also actively engaged to the accomplishment of the Coalition goals on stopping new developments on peatlands, as well as to ensure no exploitation and Human Rights violations.

We publicly report on our actions and progress, both on our website and in our Annual Report. For increased transparency, data is subject to independent third-party assurance. Jerónimo Martins' fighting deforestation strategy was disclosed in 2016, reviewed in 2021, and it will be adjusted, whenever necessary, in line with the developments of the work conducted by The CGF's Forest Positive Coalition of Action.

Shared Responsibility

The Board of Governors of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil approved new Shared Responsibility rules on 31 October 2019, requiring all members to share sustainability requirements and obligations. Reporting of Shared Responsibility (SR) requirements will be done through ACOP and MyRSPO. As the process of verification of the reports is in development, the Shared Responsibility section in ACOP may change in future ACOP cycles. Evidence to show compliance to the SR requirements shall be uploaded via your membership profile in MyRSPO. Please login to your MyRSPO account and upload the relevant policies, plans and relevant reports there. If you do not have a policy or your policy does not cover all items, you will be required to provide a Declaration of Support for the relevant policy items in your MyRSPO profile. Additional information on the required policies and plans applicable to all sectors as well as the annual uptake targets for supply chain actors can be found on <https://rspo.org/members/shared-responsibility> or email the Shared Responsibility team at sharedresponsibility@rspo.org.

Challenges and Support

1.1 What significant obstacles or challenges has your company encountered in the promotion of certified sustainable palm oil (CSPO)? What efforts has your company taken to address these obstacles or challenges?

- Awareness of RSPO in the market
- Difficulties in the certification process
- Certification of smallholders
- Competition with non-RSPO members
- High costs in achieving or adhering to certification
- Human rights issues
- Insufficient demand for RSPO-certified palm oil
- Low usage of palm oil
- Reputation of palm oil in the market
- Reputation of RSPO in the market
- Supply issues
- Traceability issues
- No challenges faced
- Others

Others

Jerónimo Martins continuously engages with its perishables and private brand suppliers to potential barriers and opportunities in the palm oil supply chain. Several of the difficulties mentioned above concern our suppliers in Colombia, a country where less than 30% of total palm oil production is sustainably certified (including RSPO). This mismatch between demand and supply of RSPO certified palm oil production volume in Colombia explains the difficulties in securing RSPO certified palm oil volumes. Our banner in Colombia, Ara, accounts for over 55% of total palm oil present in our Group's private brands and perishable products. Our sourcing strategy favors local supply of this ingredient to ensure shorter supply chains, thus avoiding, for example, longer distances of palm oil from southeast Asia while at the same time allowing for greater traceability to producing areas. In parallel we have joined the "Acuerdo de Voluntades para la Deforestación Cero en la Cadena de Palma en Colombia" (Voluntary agreement for Zero Deforestation Palm Oil in Supply Chains in Colombia) that aims to tackle deforestation and promote sustainable palm oil production in the country.

The Agreement is an initiative of the Colombian government and is supported by civil society organisations such as RSPO, Proforest, Tropical Forest Alliance and WWF.

This approach enabled us to trace back about 90% of the palm oil used in Ara's Private Labels and perishables to the farm where it was produced. At Ara, 99% of the palm oil used in the Private Brand and perishables was produced in Colombia. Of this, less than 5% held an RSPO certificate. As for palm oil sourced from outside Colombia, 74% of the palm oil used in Ara's Private Brand and perishable products that did not come from Colombia was RSPO certified in 2022 (54 p.p. more than in 2021).

In contrast to what happens with our suppliers in Colombia, challenges faced by our suppliers in Poland and Portugal are mostly related to traceability. Although palm oil used in our perishables and private brand are RSPO certified, in Europe this commodity is used mainly as an ingredient (or a sub-ingredient) of a processed product. This means that, for suppliers in Poland and Portugal it is more challenging to have 100% origin traceability on the palm oil they incorporate in the products they supply in comparison with our suppliers in Colombia, one of the major palm oil production countries in the world. This is particularly relevant within the framework of the new EU Regulation to minimize EU-driven deforestation and forest degradation which requires operators to collect the geographic coordinates of the land where the commodities linked to deforestation (e.g., palm oil) they place on the market were produced. Nevertheless, efforts have been continuously made to increase traceability every year in our supply chain.

Another obstacle, especially for our smaller or less representative private brand suppliers, is the supply chain CSPO certification. For small enterprises, or even for our direct suppliers that do not purchase palm oil directly (e.g., in cases where palm oil is already embedded into other products' components) Jerónimo Martins' approach has been focused on the continuous promotion of the use of RSPO certified palm oil.

1.2 In addition to the actions already reported in this ACOP report, what other ways has your company supported the vision of the RSPO to transform markets to make sustainable palm oil the norm?

- Communication and/or engagement to transform the negative perception of palm oil
- Engagement with business partners or consumers on the use of CSPO
- Engagement with government agencies
- Engagement with peers and clients
- Promotion of CSPO through off product claims
- Promotion of CSPO outside of RSPO venues such as trade workshops or industry associations
- Promotion of physical CSPO
- Providing funding or support for CSPO development efforts
- Research & Development support
- Stakeholder engagement
- No actions taken
- Others

Others

Engagement with business partners or consumers on the use of CSPO; Engagement with government agencies; Engagement with peers and clients; Promotion of CSPO outside of RSPO venues such as trade workshops or industry associations; Stakeholder Engagement; Others

As a Group present in different geographies, we act through local multistakeholder initiatives that are aligned with RSPO vision of making sustainable palm oil the norm. In Poland, through our banner Biedronka, we develop actions through the Polish Coalition for Sustainable Palm Oil (PKZOP), which aims to achieve 100% certified palm oil (e.g., RSPO) by 2023, and in Colombia, through our banner Ara, we are part of the “Acuerdo de Voluntades para la Deforestación Cero en la Cadena de Palma en Colombia” (Voluntary agreement for Zero Deforestation Palm Oil in Supply Chains in Colombia), promoted by the Colombian government to fight deforestation in the country’s palm oil chain with the support of producers, industry, retailers and civil society organizations (e.g., RSPO, Proforest and WWF).

For several years Jerónimo Martins has sought to responsibly manage the incorporation of the main raw materials associated with deforestation and the conversion of ecosystems of high conservation value. Since 2014, together with our supply chain, we map the presence of palm oil in our Private brand and perishable products through surveys that allow information to be gathered on its origin to at least the national level and the type of RSPO certification. In this context, we also question our suppliers to identify their policies and actions to fight deforestation.

As members of the Consumer Goods Forum’s - Forest Positive Coalition of Action (FP CoA), our actions and targets to which we have committed on this regard are publicly available in the FP CoA palm oil roadmap and seek both to guarantee greater traceability of the raw material and to ensure that the palm oil used does not contribute to human rights violations, deforestation or conversion of HCV ecosystems, including high carbon forests and peatlands. As part of this commitment, we continue to work with our supply chain, communicating our goals, expectations and progress, and encouraging suppliers of Private Label and perishable products to make the same commitments in their activities.

In addition to this, we continue to reply to the CDP-Disclosure Insight Actions. In 2022, we were the only global food retailer to achieve leadership level (A-) in the deforestation related commodities by CDP Forests program. In 2023, our goal is to continue to reply to CDP Forest's and consolidate our position as a ground-breaking food retailer in the transformation of the sustainable palm oil supply chain.
