Continue to promote consumer choices benefitting sustainable palm oil to our guests, teachers and students.

Currently, we engage audiences around sustainable palm oil use as a relevant action step for our middle school and high school Rhino Reproductive Endocrinology modules. Participants are asked to open the palm oil app on the iPad at their station and are given time to explore products they use daily to see how the color-coded system works. Participants are then encouraged to download the free app to their personal devices and begin scanning products in their own homes in order to make better consumer choices moving forward. We provide this exploratory training for thousands of participants each year. For example, in calendar year 2023, we engaged 1,377 local students and teachers with these important modules.

We also share this module information with 130 to 180 formal classroom teachers and informal science educators each summer during our Teacher Workshops in Conservation Science (actual number depends on funding).

Shared Responsibility

The Board of Governors of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil approved new Shared Responsibility rules on 31 October 2019, requiring all members to share sustainability requirements and obligations. Reporting of Shared Responsibility (SR) requirements will be done through ACOP and MyRSPO. As the process of verification of the reports is in development, the Shared Responsibility section in ACOP may change in future ACOP cycles. Evidence to show compliance to the SR requirements shall be uploaded via your membership profile in MyRSPO. Please login to your MyRSPO account and upload the relevant policies, plans and relevant reports there. If you do not have a policy or your policy does not cover all items, you will be required to provide a Declaration of Support for the relevant policy items in your MyRSPO profile. Additional information on the required policies and plans applicable to all sectors as well as the annual uptake targets for supply chain actors can be found on <https://rspo.org/members/shared-responsibility> or email the Shared Responsibility team at sharedresponsibility@rspo.org.
