3.9 What measures do you take if a client is not meeting the requirements of your policy on palm oil?

Before doing business with any company involved in palm oil production or trading, our SCR experts ask how the company manages environmental and social challenges in its palm oil operations, as required by UBS's standards for palm oil production. Due diligence depends on the client and the type of transaction we are facing. For example, when it comes to lending, trade finance, underwriting or investment banking advisory mandates, due diligence may involve desk research and interaction with companies and external experts, along with global and local non-governmental organizations. Depending on the results, this can lead to a variety of actions, from requesting the client to certify its production or trading processes against the standards of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO) to refusing to do business with the client.

3.10 Do you proactively engage with your clients to support and join the RSPO?

Yes

3.11 Did members of your company participate in RSPO working groups and/or taskforces during the reporting period?

Yes

3.12 Does your company have any collaborations with public or private sector palm oil industry players to support them in their efforts to increase the production or consumption of certified sustainable palm oil (CSPO)?

No

3.13 What other activities have your company undertaken to promote RSPO-certified sustainable palm oil and oil palm products during the reporting period?

UBS applies a requirement for palm oil companies to be committed to 'No Deforestation, No Peat and No Exploitation' (NDPE), which is increasingly being adopted in the palm oil sector.
