6. Shared Responsibility

The Board of Governors of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO) approved new Shared Responsibility rules on 31 October 2019, requiring all members to share sustainability requirements and obligations. Reporting of Shared Responsibility indicators will be done through several channels, including ACOP. As the implementation of Shared Responsibility reporting is still on-going and in development, the Shared Responsibility section in ACOP is not yet final and may change in future ACOP cycles. For more information on Shared Responsibility, please go to https://rspo.org/news-and-events/news/what-are-the-new-shared-responsibility-rules or email the ACOP team at acop@rspo.org

FONAP WildAsia Project: Short description of project that can be used by FONAP members FONAP sees certification systems as the first step towards sustainable palm oil. At present, four certification systems are accepted by FONAP: ISCC PLUS, Rainforest Alliance, RSB and RSPO. Even though FONAP accepts the existing certification standards for palm oil, these can only be considered adequate in that they define minimum requirements for sustainable palm oil production. Therefore, FONAP members have voluntarily accepted following add-on criteria: - Stopping cultivation on peatlands and other areas with a high carbon content - Ban on the use of highly hazardous pesticides (Rotterdam and Stockholm Conventions, WHO class 1a and 1b pesticides and paraquat) - Application of strict greenhouse gas reduction targets - Use of fresh fruit bunches from legal sources only In introducing these add-on criteria, FONAP aims to take measures to ensure inclusivity of smallholders are not affected. As only in introducing these add-on criteria, FONAP aims to take measures to ensure inclusivity of smallnowers are not affected. As so, in an effort to understand the implications and applicability of these criteria on small producers, WWF Germany-FONAP commissioned Wild Asia to carry out a project titled "Impact of the FONAP Add-on Criteria on Small Producers in Malaysia" which takes place from July 2018 to November 2020. The project aims to understand the impact of the FONAP Criteria on small producers and also to understand more about opportunities for FONAP to support better production on the ground. Wild Asia is a Malaysian-based social enterprise with a goal of promoting the production of sustainable palm oil and ensuring greater traceability in the supply chain. In 2012, the Wild Asia Group Scheme (WAGS) was founded. Through this program, Wild Asia works with independent smallholder farmers to help them improve their farming practices and comply with national and international standards (such as MSPO and RSPO). WAGS is a community development initiative designed to improve the livelihoods of smallholder farmers by increasing yields and ensuring access to the international market of sustainable palm oil. To date there are 2 key the project, some or these smallholders (each with less than 40 nectares) are testing the applicability and reasibility of the additional FONAP criteria. Results on this work will be available in June 2019. In preparation of this testing phase, Wild Asia has conducted a desktop analysis in order to assess to what degree the smallholders can already meet the FONAP criteria to this date.
